The people of his district recognized his integrity and ability and elected him to the Ohio senate, of which body he became a leader. He gained considerable distinction as the author of a bill, which became a law, providing that candidates for political office in the state be required to file a sworn statement of their campaign expenses immediately after election. Mr. Garfield served two terms in the state senate. DEATHS FROM LA GRIPPE.

Five Cases Prove Fatal Within a Week-Other Diseases.

Five deaths from the grip were reported o the health office during the past week. This is shown in the weekly statement of health conditions issued today. Other cities have been suffering from the effects. of the grip, but Washington has been singularly free from it in fatal form up to now. This is the time of year, however, when the worst phases of the disease are likely to make themselves felt and impress the importance of taking care of colds. The changeable weather of the past fortnight has probably had much to do with the prevalence of grip. Cases of this disease are not registered with the health department and the only means the officials of that branch of the District service have of versations with practicing physicians. Of course, when the disease takes on a fatal form it is reported among the death reously apparent.

As this is peculiarly "grip season" its prevalence in Washington is not looked upon with any anxiety on the part of the health authorities. Typhoid fever continues to prevail, and the number of cases under treatment increased during the past week from 139 to 146. There were two deaths. The uninterrupted continuance of the fever throughout the winter seems to upset the popular theory that the disease is essentially a summer one. Not until the beginning of last summer were records of typhoid fever kept, so there is still no means of compar-ing the present conditions with those of former years as to the greater or less num-ber of cases. The weekly report of the health department follows: During the week ended on Saturday 'ast the deaths in the District numbered 149. In the previous week there were 122, and In the corresponding period of last year 112. Of the recent decedents 77 were white, representing a death rate of 19.7, and 72 colored, the death rate being 41.7. For all the deaths the rate was 26.5 per thousand, as compared with 19.9 last year and 21.7 last week. The principal causes of mortality were consumption, increasing from 8 to 20, and pneumonia, from 22 to 32. There were 2 fatal cases of typhoid fever, 3 of whooping cough, 4 of measles and 5 of grip. By violence 3 deaths occurred, 1 being suicide by hanging, 1 accidental fall and 1 accidental inhalation of illuminating gas.

The births reported numbered 85, of 41, and females, 44.

The cases of typhoid fever brought over from last week were 139. During the week 14 new cases occurred and 7 were discharged, leaving 146 under medical super-

Of scarlet fever 11 cases were in quarantine at the beginning of the week. New cases numbering 6 were reported, and 3 having been discharged, left 14 cases with warning cards on 11 premises. There were in quarantine 5 cases of diphtheria. Two new cases developing and 2 having been discharged, left 5 remaining under treatment in 4 premises.

From the previous week 8 cases of smallpox were carried forward. No new cases developed and no discharges having taken place left 8 patients under medical care at the close of Saturday last.

The mean meteorological conditions prevalent during the week were: Temperature of the atmosphere, 43 degrees; relative humidity, 80, and barometer, 29.95. The rainfall amounted to 0.90 of an inch, with southerly winds, averaging eight miles per hour. The maximum temperature was 68 degrees, on the 13th, and minimum, 24 de-grees, on the 10th.

PLEA

NATIONAL SOCIETY OF CHILDREN SAYS THE LABORING PEOPLE SHOULD FORM TRUSTS.

> The Differences Between Labor and Capital Described as Irreconcilable -Other Speakers' Views.

Stories of the existing conditions among the miners of Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia, the evils of child labor, coupled with denunciations and criticisms of both the republican and democratic parties, were the features of the special meeting of the Bellamy Club held last evening at Masonic Temple. "Mother" Jones, the renowned organizer of the United Mine Workers of America; William L. Dewart, secretary of the Anti-Trust League of this city, and William A. Toole of Baltimore, who has been identified with the socialist movement, were the speakers, and their utterances greatly stirred the audience. The speakers labored to reveal to their auditors the conditions of the toilers of the United States, and made an earnest appeal to the working people to lay aside their religious beliefs and become a unit for the purpose of "righting the wrongs imposed through the power of wealth."

The meeting was called to order and the introductory remarks made by Secretary Joseph Wood of the club, who presided. The first speaker was William L. Dewart. He was well aware of the fact that the assemblage was anxious to hear "Mother" Jones, and after speaking very briefly of the alleged attitude of Judges Jackson and Keller of West Virginia against organized labor, and reviewing the recent anthracite coal strike, he introduced Mrs. Jones.

Mother Jones' Plea. The advocate of miners' rights said, in

"We are entering into a new field of human emancipation—an emancipation which must come. We have found that in every century there has been some vital issue involving human liberty, and those of civil liberty and chattel liberty were both settled. The issue which now stares us in the face is of greater import than those of the past and is much more far-reaching. It is economic liberty. We will fight and win, and it will perhaps be the last battle against the barbarism of human slavery.
"The human mind—the mind of the peo ple—is taking the proper direction, and the slavery of today will be crushed out just as the slavery of ante-bellum times was abolished, and the settlement will, in every sense of the word, be satisfactory to organized labor. A class war must come, and it is not so far away. It will be a conflict of brains instead of bullets and implements of war.

ments of war. "Fifty years ago the conditions of the negro were almost intolerable, and the blood was lashed from the slave without provocation. The heart of the American people felt the lash and declared that slavery should be abolished. It was accordingly done away with, but not without bloodshed. The conditions of 1861 and those of today are identical. We shall be emancipated, but, as I have often said, without bloodshed. It must come; it will come in the natural course of events.'

Recites Her Experiences.

After recalling the circumstances attending her arrest at Clarksburg, W. Va., while attempting to inaugurate a strike, her imprisonment and the censure by the judge, 'Mother" Jones spoke of the evils of child labor, depicting its darkest features. She also described a meeting held on top of a mountain in West Virginia, where a large number of striking miners were camped.
While picturing to her auditors the scenes among the striking miners and describing their ejection from the company's shacks, she cried aloud:
"You can build your bastiles and jails, but I shall fight for a higher and nobler civilization for my fellow-worker as long as I am able to walk and talk."

"West Virginia," continued Mother Jones, "is a God-cursed state. Its officials are in the grasp of corporations. The corporations have everything their own way. The conditions in the New River region of Virginia are similar.

"You wonder why we have drunkards; why we need charitable organizations, and why we have penitentiaries. They are all here because of the greed of wealth. There shall be a reckoning. We produce all the wealth of the country and are entitled to a share of the profits. I do not oppose Morgan or the trusts; let them go on. But there shall also be a labor trust. Why not? One is as fair as the other. Neither the democratic nor the republican party has an issue to offer the people. It is 'all for self and none for thee.' President Roosevelt cannot restrain the trusts, neither could have Mr. Bryan had be been elected. The trusts are here to stay, and they ignore the law com

Must Form Trusts.

"The time has come when the laboring people must form trusts, get government franchises and work for themselves. The people are becoming educated and are being lifted from their lethargy."

Mother Jones concluded her address by arging the women to become affiliated with the socialistic movement, declaring that they are needed in the work. The speech-making was brought to a close by William A. Toole, who spoke in advocacy of the gov-ernment ownership of the mines and other institutions now under private control.

Gau-tron, liquidator of the Universal Interoceanic Panama Canal Company, assented, with the approval of the civil tribunal of the Seine, is hereby accepted, subject to modifications of articles 21 and 22 of the concessionary contract by the ratification by both countries and the going into effect of the pending treaty concerning the Pana-ma canal between the United States and Colombia, now signed and awaiting ratifi-Colombia, now signed and awaiting ratin-cation. The President desires that the pro-ceedings necessary to the transfer of the title and possession of the property be for-warded as much as possible, to the end that when the pending treaty is ratified and goes into effect nothing will remain to be done but to consummate the transaction by the delivery of possession and the payment of the consideration. MR. TELLER INDIGNANT.

Takes Exception to Remarks by. Mr. The Senate yesterday afternoon agreed to the conference report on the army appropriation bill with but little discussion. Discussion of the statehood bill was resumed, and Mr. Depew continued his re-

he. "I have listened to a good deal I consider beneath the dignity of the Senate, but I cannot listen to that (Depew's remarks) without saying here as a senator and as a citizen of the United States I feel insulted, and I think the American people will feel this insult from the senator from a condition where you cannot tell what the people may do in the discussions of the future." He had not concluded when, at 4:05 p.m., the Senate adjourned.

Yesterday was the first day of the handkerchief bazaar held by the Ladies' Guild of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Mt. Pleasant, and was a great success. The room in which the bazaar was held, No. 1417 Park street (Goodwin flats), was prettily decorated in white and green. The principal feature of the occasion was the sale of exquisite handkerchiefs received from all parts of the world and from notable personages, including President Roosevelt. These were tastefully displayed on the walls and tables of the bazaar, and

The patrons of the bazaar were enter-tained by the Columbia Heights Juvenile Orchestra, consisting of the following: Violinists, Miss Leila Hitt and Masters Robert Mayfield and Ralph Waring; mandolin, Miss Ruth Hitt, and in part of the num-bers Master Robert Mayfield played second mandolin; banjo, Masters Mercer Mayfield and W. Birch Hitt, who was drummer boy in the "American Patrol." The planists were Misses Octa Bassett and Mary Mayfield. Misses Ruth and Leila Hitt filled several numbers of the program with plano color and duets.
